

Fiji Airways executive general manager Fiji Link and Group Corporate, International and Government Affairs Shaenaz Voss holding the Supreme Award during the 2018 Prime Minister's International Business Awards at Sofitel Fiji Resort and Spa in Denarau, Nadi. Photo: Investment Fiji

PRIME MINISTER'S INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS AWARDS

Awards Recognise Our Team's Hard Work: FJ

LUSIANA TUIMASALA
SUVA

Fiji Airways, one of the top winners last year says there are several benefits for businesses that get recognised at the event.

tries to the prestigious Prime Minister's International Business Awards are now open. This means that businesses who want to be recognised

Value
"We recognise the value and importance of vying for these accolades at the very prestigious Prime Minister's International Business Awards, because it highlights the tremendous progress that our company has made," the spokesperson said.

"Awards like these are a recognition and acknowledgement of the hard work of the people who take the company to greater heights.

"For Fiji Airways, it's the 1400 men and women who proudly work for Fiji's National Airline.

Last year Fiji Airways

won two awards, these are e-Commerce and Supreme award sponsored by Fiji Water.

participating in wonderful events like this," the spokesperson added.

contribution towards Fiji's thriving economy will be recognised. The awards provide an opportunity for Fijian businesses to benchmark performance, build capability and inspire to innovate, highlight service excellence, support job creation and boost employee morale.

It also aspires to encourage local businesses to look beyond their reach, challenge their limitations, break the barriers and punch above its weight through ingenious approaches.

Application have already opened

